SECOND EDITION . . .

EQUALITY.

By EDWARD BELLAMY, author of "Looking Backward." 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"Political economy has never been made so entertaining. The conversational device is, of course, an aid, but far more important is the clear and direct style. The lucidity of his reasoning and the simple character of his contrasts make the mere reading a pleasure. If the book is satisfying, it is at all points full of suggestions that lead to profitable trains of thought; and if difficulties frequently occur to the reader, these are in the main answered. Since finishing 'Looking Backward' Mr. Bellamy has found that what was left out of it was much more important than what it contained; hence 'Equality.' Perhaps the most important of these omissions was that of the transition period. The long chapters devoted to that epoch form the pivot of the book. They have been written with unquestionable skill. . . . He has pictured a state of society in which not democracy only, but Christianity, would have its first fair trial. . . . It is a greater book than 'Looking Backward,' while it is also more powerful; and the smoothness, the never-failing interest, the limpid clearness and the simplicity of the argument, and the timeliness, will make it extremely popular. Here is a book that every one will read and enjoy. Rant there is none, but the present system is subjected to a searching arraignment. Withal, the story is bright, optimistic, and cheerful."—Boston Herald.

INSECT-LIFE.

By JOHN HENRY COMSTOCK, Professor of Entomology in Cornell University. With illustrations by Anna Botsford Comstock, member of the Society of American Wood Engravers. 12mo, cloth, $2.50.

A popular book of general value and interest which will meet a want felt by teachers and be indispensable for classes, and will also prove of constant service to those who have felt the need of a guide to the identification and study of insects. It is a book for amateurs and summer tourists as well as for students, and is magnificently illustrated by Mrs. Comstock's accurate and beautiful wood engravings.

THE MENOPAUSE.

A Consideration of the Phenomena which occur to Women at the Close of the Child-bearing Period, with Incidental Allusions to their Relationship to Menstruation. Also a Particular Consideration of the Premature (especially the Artificial) Menopause. By ANDREW F. CURRIER, A.B., M.D. 12mo, cloth, 284 pages, $2.00.

A book useful not only to the physician but also to women who are approaching that so-called critical period of life in which their existence is rendered miserable by doubts and fears, many of which are unfounded, as is demonstrated by the author. The work is written in a style which can readily be understood by any intelligent reader.

The PRIVATE LIFE of the QUEEN.

By a Member of the Royal Household. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

The most comprehensive account of Queen Victoria's daily life, habits, and immediate surroundings that has been published. It pictures the Queen's personality in a singularly intimate and entertaining way, and the account which is given will rank as probably the closest study of the Queen's private life.

THE STORY OF THE EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE.

By DOUGLAS ARCHIBALD, M.A. A new volume in the Library of Useful Stories. 16mo, cloth, 40 cents.

This little work puts forward the main features of our knowledge of the conditions which prevail in our atmosphere as they are interpreted through the science of to-day.

NÚLMA.

By Mrs. CAMPBELL-PRAED, author of "Mrs. Tregaskiss," "Outlaw and Lawmaker," "Christina Chard," etc. No. 220, Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

In this story, which is written with great care and force, the author returns to the field of antipodean romance which she has cultivated with such marked success. Her novel pictures social and official life, with its picturesque colonial environment, and as a story it will be found singularly sympathetic and interesting.

For sale by all booksellers; or will be sent by mail on receipt of price by the publishers,

OUR LATE BOOKS.

THE LIFE AND WORK OF FREDERIC THOMAS GREENHALGE, GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS.

By JAMES ERNEST NESMITH. One octavo volume. 464 pages. With two portraits. Cloth, gilt top, deckel edges, $3.00.

The story of the life of Governor Greenhalge is necessarily for the most part political. His life, however, was broader in its interest than is common with politicans and statesmen, and touched more closely the sphere of literature and culture, which gives it an added interest and variety. A selection of his verses are included in the volume.

HIRED FURNISHED.

Being Certain Economical Housekeeping Adventures in England. By MARGARET B. WRIGHT. With map. 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE next issue of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, dated July 10, will contain the "American Educational Catalogue for 1897." As in former years the regular departments, including the "Books Wanted," etc., will be omitted in that issue.

PUBLISHERS who have not yet bespoken space in the "Publishers' Trade List Annual" for 1897 are requested to send word to the office of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY at the earliest moment how many pages their catalogues will make this year.

GINN & CO. will publish at once "Practical Physiology," a text-book for higher schools, by Dr. Albert F. Blaisdell, author of "How to Keep Well," etc.

BOUSSOD, VALADON & CO. have just ready Part 4 of the 1897 "Figaro Salon," with text by Philippe Gille. The full-page colored supplement accompanying this part is a reproduction of E. A. Piot's "Rêverie."

W. A. WILDE & CO., Boston, have nearly ready a new story for girls and young people, by Miss Ellen Douglas Deland, to be entitled "A Successful Venture." It will be illustrated by Mrs. Alice Barber Stephens.

THE THEOSOPHICAL PUBLISHING SOCIETY, of which T. E. Comba, of 65 Fifth Avenue, is the representative in this country, will publish early in August a new book by Mrs. Annie Besant, entitled "The Ancient Wisdom."

BONNELL, SILVER & CO. will soon issue "Across the Country of the Little King: A Trip Through Spain," by William Bement Lent, and "The Sacrifice of a Throne," being an account of the life of Amadeus, Duke of Aosta, by H. Remsen Whitehouse.

THE AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY has just issued "The Pennsylvania Reader, Historical and Patriotic," by Stephen O. Goho, A.M., late superintendent of schools at Milton, Pa.; and text editions of Virgil's "Eclogues and Georgics," and of the "Aeneid," Books I. to XII.

LEE & SHEPARD have just issued a timely pamphlet entitled "The Hawaiian Incident, an Examination of Mr. Cleveland's Attitude toward the Revolution of 1893," by J. A. Gillis. They have also just ready "The Genesis of Shakespeare's Art, a study of his sonnets and poems," by Edwin James Dunning.

THE SELF-PROVING ACCOUNT-BOOK COMPANY, Wool Exchange Building, New York, has published a volume entitled "The Self-Proving Accounting System," a manual for accountants and auditors, which illustrates a system of accounts adapted to various lines of business, which has for its foundation a Perpetual Balance Sheet. The volume has been prepared by A. O. Kittredge, of New York, and J. F. Brown, of Toronto.

D. APPLETON & CO. will publish in August, in their Town and Country Library, "A Colonial Free-Lance," an American historical novel, by C. C. Hotchkiss, author of "In Defiance of the King." It was necessary to put the Appleton presses at work again on Mr. Edward Bellamy's "Equality" within three days after publication. It was supposed that the exceptional first edition would prove sufficient for a time, but the demand has made it necessary to rush a very large second edition through as rapidly as possible.

FRANK GRISCOM, 55 North Tenth Street, Philadelphia, has taken the agency for Isaac Roberts' important contribution to the "sound money" side of the currency question, published last year under the title of "Wages, Fixed Incomes, and the Free Coinage of Silver." Upwards of 180,000 copies were sold of this entertaining and logical discussion of the dangers of free coinage to all depending upon fixed incomes, and the book is now endorsed by Harvey, Fiske & Sons, General Horace Porter, Thomas L. James, and many more leading bankers, manufacturers, and business men. The questions covered by the book are as unsettled as ever, and Mr. Roberts' work is as important as when first published.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

About, Edmund François Valentin. The king of the mountains; from the French by Mrs. Kingsbury. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1897. c. 246 p. D. cl., $1. [2049

Hadji Stavros, called the King of the mountains, was, according to the German student, Hermann Schultz, who is supposed to be telling his history, a famous brigand, who lived on Mount Parnassus in the vicinity of Athens, terrorizing not only the Greeks, but also travellers from foreign countries. Schultz tells of his own capture by the bandit giving a wonderful account of incidents worthy of the pen of Münchausen. The time is from 1840-1856. Written by About in 1856.

Bellamy, E: Equality. N. Y., Appleton, 1897. c. 8+412 p. D. buckram, $1.25. [2058

Mr. Bellamy in this work uses the same framework with some of the characters of his former story "Looking backward," as a starting point, and also the same year 2000. "Equality" is largely an amplification of the theories of "Looking backward," depicting an Arcadian condition of life and government in the twentieth century, resulting from a revolution in our own day against wealth, monopolies, corrupt governments, etc., etc. Our own politics are sharply criticised, and their weak points exposed.

Left a widow, with a family of grown children, some of whom are married and others about to be, Mrs. Vane announces to them, that they are all at liberty to live out their own lives, as she must separate from them, as she intends henceforth to work for humanity. One of her daughters, Althea, drifts under the influence of "dear Faustina," a young woman occupying a sordid flat, who is also working for humanity, and who has peculiar views about the marriage laws. Althea joins her life to her's until she becomes disillusionized with the "Cause"; her story is full of instruction.

This work follows the same general lines as the author's "Leading facts of American history." It differs, however, from the more elementary manual in many important respects. It is much fuller in its treatment of political and constitutional history, and of the chief events bearing on the development of the nation. It quotes original documents, authorities, and standard writers on the points of greatest interest to the student and the teacher, the object being to let the history of our country speak for itself. As a help to further research, note numbers have been inserted throughout referring to upwards of two thousand works of acknowledged merit cited in the appendix (9 p.). There is also a classified list of books on American history covering 6 pages.

Experience Mayhew in 1713 and 1714. N. Y., imported by Dodd, Mead & Co., 1897. 32+127 p. 8°, hf. cl., net, $3.75. [2102

Peters, J: Punnett, D.D, Nippur; or, explorations and adventures on the Euphrates: the narrative of the University of Pennsylvania Expedition to Babylonia in the years 1888–1890. V. 1, First campaign. N. Y., G: P. Putnam's Sons, 1897. c. 15+375 p. por. il. map, O. cl., $2.50. [2103

The two volumes of this work, of which the second is yet to come, are sold separately. In this volume Mr. Peters tells of the organization of the expedition; of the trouble in obtaining an iradé (permission to dig); his impressions of Constantinople; the discovery of Tiphsah; the visit to the city of Zenobia, etc., and of adventures met with on the way to Babylonia, the discovery of Nippur and how explorations were made there and in the Temple of Bel, the oldest temple in the world. These explorations, especially of the second year, described in the second volume, brought to light an enormous number of inscribed tablets, stones, bricks, etc., throwing light upon a period antedating all possible history by at least 2000 years. Maps and illustrations taken on the spot elucidate the narrative.

"Du Guesclin was to his country in the fourteenth century what Joan of Arc was in the following century. Sprung from a humble Breton ancestry, with few advantages of position or of early education, he won his way from an obscure position to that of the first citizen of France through the force of his own courage, integrity, prowess, and rare military genius. Beginning his career in the struggle between John de Montfort and Charles de Blois for the succession to the Duchy of Brittany, he later led the Free Companies out of France, banished Peter the Cruel from the throne of Castele, and finally drove the English almost entirely from their extensive possessions in France." —Preface.

JOULNALISTIC NOTES.

AFTER this month J. M. Dent & Co. will take over the publication of Natural Science, the well-known English monthly chronicle of scientific movements and events.

The New Time, "a Liberal, Progressive, Authoritative Review," is the title of the new monthly, edited by B. O. Flower, formerly of The Arena, and Frederick Upham Adams, editor of New Occasions, published by Charles H. Kerr & Co., 56 Fifth Avenue, Chicago. Among the contributors are Henry D. Lloyd, Hamlin Garland, Helen Campbell, Justice Walter Clark, Senators Marion Butler, John T. Morgan, and William T. Stewart, Frances E. Willard, and others.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 3, 1897.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

AMERICAN BOOK-TRADE BIBLIOGRAPHY. III.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE, ETC.

IN 1876 work was begun on "The American Catalogue . . . of books in print and for sale (including reprints and importations,) July 1, 1876," the first volume of which was completed in the fall of 1879, and the second, completing the work, in the summer of 1881. This has been followed by the five-yearly volumes for 1876–1884, 1884–1890, and 1890–1895, and since 1886 by the "Annual American Catalogue," which gives full titles, with descriptive notice, of the more important books recorded in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, to which is added an author-title-subject index, publishers' lists, and a directory of publishers.[43-47]

[43] The American Catalogue under the direction of F. Leypoldt [Vol. I.] Author and Title Entries of books in print and for sale (including reprints and importations) July 1, 1876 Compiled by Lynds E. Jones New York A. C. [44] The American Catalogue founded by F. Leypoldt 1876–1884 Books recorded (including reprints and importations) July 1, 1876–June 30, 1884 Compiled under the editorial direction of R: R. Bowker by Miss A. I. Appleton I. Author-and-title alphabet II. Subject alphabet, etc. New York Office of The Publishers' Weekly 1885. xxix+2+446+260 p. 4°.

Contains, also, list of United States Government Publications, Jan. 1, 1881 to June 30, 1884; record of the publications of Literary and Scientific Societies, "as far as reported"; books published in series; and "omissions from cheap libraries."

[45] The American Catalogue founded by F: Leypoldt 1884–1890 Books recorded (including reprints and importations) July 1, 1884–June 30, 1890 Compiled under the editorial direction of R: R. Bowker by A. I. Appleton and others I. Author-and-title alphabet II. Subject alphabet, etc. New York Office of The Publishers' Weekly 1891. xxxii+2+584+4+318 p. 4°.

Contains, also, list of United States Government Publications, July 1, 1884 to June 30, 1890; State Publications for the period July 1, 1884 to June 30, 1890; Publications of Societies, including Transactions, etc., July 1, 1884 to June 30, 1890; Books in Series.

[46] The American Catalogue founded by F: Leypoldt 1890–1895 Books recorded (including reprints and importations) July 1, 1890–June 30, 1895 Compiled under the editorial direction of R: R. Bowker I. Author-and-title alphabet II. Subject alphabet, etc. New York Office of The Publishers' Weekly 1896. xxxiii+2+503+4+251+4+142 p. 4°.

Contains, also, list of United States Government Publications, July 1, 1890 to June 30, 1895; State Publications for the period July 1, 1890 to June 30, 1895; Publications of Societies, including Transactions, etc., July 1, 1890 to June 30, 1895; Books in Series, including series of lectures and prize essays.

[47] The Annual American Catalogue [1886 to 1896] *Being the full titles, with descriptive notes, of all books recorded in the Publishers' Weekly, [1886 to 1896] with author, title and subject index, publishers' annual lists and directory of publishers. New York Office of The Publishers' Weekly 1886 to 1896. 8°.

* In the volume for 1890 the following line appeared on the title-page [First Supplement to The American Catalogue, 1884–90.] The volumes for 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894 were respectively the second, third and fourth supplements to "The American Catalogue 1884–90." The volume for 1895 became the first supplement to "The American Catalogue, 1890–95," and the volume for 1896 is the second supplement.

This, in brief, is the record of American book-trade bibliography from its beginnings to the present day. It is not intended to include any but those works published specially for the use of the trade. Exceptions have been made in favor of a few of those which, though they appeal to a wider class, may nevertheless find a place in a list such as this. The record may be completed by the mention of the following, arranged chronologically:

An American Bibliographical and Historical Dictionary, containing an Account of the Lives, Characters and Writings of the most Eminent Persons in North America from its first Discovery to the present time . . . By William Allen. Cambridge, 1809. 632 p. Portrait of Washington. 8°.

Of slight bibliographical value. A second edition was published by Hyde & Co., Boston, 1832. (viii+800 p. 8°); and a third edition in 1857. (x+900 p. 8°.)

The Critic. A Weekly Review of Literature, Fine Arts and the Drama. Edited by W. Leggatt. New York, 1828–1829. 2 vols. 8°.

The United States Literary Advertiser and Publishers' Circular. A Monthly Register of Literature. New York, J. & H. Langley, 1831–1842. 11 numbers. 4°.

The Booksellers' Advertiser and Monthly Register of New Publications. American and Foreign. [Edited by George Palmer Putnam.] New York: West & Trow. 1834. 12 numbers. 4°.

Published anonymously by Mr. Putnam while he was a clerk in Jonathan Leavitt's book-store.

Bibliotheca Americana Nova; or, a Catalogue of Books in various languages relating to America, printed since the year 1700. Compiled principally from the works themselves, by Obadiah Rich . . . London, O. Rich, 12 Red Lion Square. New York, Harper & Brothers, 82 Cliff Street. 1835. 4+424 p. 8°.

This was followed in 1841, by a "Supplement to the Bibliotheca Americana Nova. Pt. I. Additions and Corrections 1701 to 1800." (title+425–517 p. 8°.) An extra number of copies was printed of this "Supplement" so that it is sometimes found alone or bound at the end of the second volume.

In 1844, George Rich, a son of Obadiah Rich, published Vol. II. of "Bibliotheca Americana," 1801–1830. (half-title, title and 228 p. 8°.)

In 1846 the work was completed and issued in two volumes as follows:

Bibliotheca Americana Nova. A Catalogue of Books relating to America, in various languages, including Voyages to the Pacific and Round the World, and Collections of Voyages and Travels Printed since the Year 1700. Compiled principally from the works themselves, by O. Rich . . . London, Rich & Sons, 12

Red Lion Square, 1846. Vol. I. 1701–1800; Vol II. 1801–1844. 8 + 424 + 2 + 425–517 p.; 4 + 412 p. 8°.

The two volumes contains 5,115 separate titles.

Obadiah Rich, who, by the way was not an Englishman, as many suppose, but an American, born in Boston, Mass., 1783, issued in 1846 a prospectus of a "Bibliotheca Americana Vetus. Books relating to America, 1493–1700." (16+8 p. 8°.) According to Trübner's "Bibliographical Guide to American Literature," "This work was completed by Mr. Rich, and prepared for publication; but the manuscript having been accidently left in a hackney conveyance, was never recovered, and was sold as waste paper to a butcher at Gravesend, in the vicinity of Mr. Rich's residence, from whom only a few sheets were ultimately rescued." The two lists which accompanied the prospectus had already been issued separately. For a full list of Rich's catalogues, prepared by Wilberforce Eames, see Sabin's "Dictionary of Books Relating to America," Vol. XVII., pp. 206–211.

E. G. Allen, who succeeded Rich's Sons, published from 1858–'59 a catalogue of Old Books relating to America printed Prior to 1800. (32 p. 8°.)

The Literary Intelligence, prepared for the New York Review by George Palmer Putnam. 4°.

Commenced April 8, 1838, and was continued till the New York Review was discontinued in 1842.

Literary News Letter, and Monthly Register of New Books, Foreign and American, published on the first of every month. New York: Wiley & Putnam, 1838–1847. 8°.

Compiled for the use of their customers.

The Home Book Circular. Begun by D. Appleton & Co. in 1840, and after June, 1843, continued under the title of Appleton's Literary Bulletin on the plan of Wiley & Putnam's "Literary News Letter," as below:

Appleton's Literary Bulletin: a Monthly Record of New Books, English, French, German and American. Published on the first of every month, at 200 Broadway, New York, and at 148 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. Vol. I., No. 1, June, 1843, to Vol. IV., No. 44, January, 1847.

With the third number the French and German lists were discontinued and the line on the title-page changed to "Monthly Record of New Books, English and American."

Catalogue of Books, Ancient and Modern, in every department of Literature and Science. (pp. 128–154 books relating to America.) New York, Bartlett & Welford, 1841. 154 p. 8°.

Catalogue of Books. . . . Pt. 2. American history. New York, Bartlett & Welford, 1844. 8°.

Gowan's Catalogue of rare Old English and American Books. New York, William Gowan, 1842–'44. 3 numbers, each 32 p. 8°.

"Gowan published many Catalogues of Books on American History, which are enlivened by his own notes, written under the pseudonym of 'Western Memorabilia.' The notes are distinguished by much originality, some personality, and not a little bad grammar."—Sabin's "Dictionary of Books relating America," Vol. VII., p. 369.

The American Book Circular, with notes and statistics. [By George Palmer Putnam.] New York: Wiley & Putnam, 1843. 64 p. 8°.

Written to correct misstatements made in Allison's "History of Europe" regarding the progress of literature in America.

The Literary World. A Gazette for Authors, Readers, and Publishers. Edited by Charles Fenno Hoffman and E. A. and G. L. Duyckinck. New York, 13 vols. 1847–1853. 4°.

Appleton's Library Manual; comprising a Catalogue Raisonné of upwards of 12,000 of the most important works in every department of knowledge, in all modern languages. New York, D. Appleton & Co., 1849. xvi+434 p. 8°.

Includes but a few books printed in America. The reason for this is explained in the Preface, signed Oct. 1, 1847: "It has not been thought to enter very fully into the details of American literature; there was no object to be gained by occupying the very limited space at command with chronicling books that are in everybody's hands, or which it is the publisher's special interest to make known through the usual channels; besides, there is reason to expect a special American bibliography ere long, in which the genius and the industry of the New World may be favorably exhibited in contrast with that of the Old."

Bibliotheca Americana. A Catalogue of Books relating to America, On sale by John Russell Smith, [Subsequently by Alfred Russell Smith], 36 Soho Sq., London, 1849, 1853, 1865, 1871, and 1874. 8°.

Catalogue of Books relating to America. . . . Amsterdam, On sale by Frederick Müller, 1850. 104 p. 12°.

Mr. Müller issued in 1854–1858 a "Catalogus van Boeken, [etc.,] over de Nederlandsche Bezittingen," in 2 parts, (103; 28 p. 8°); and, 1872–1875, a "Catalogue of Books, Maps, [etc.,] on America," in 3 parts, (8+288; 132; 173 p. 8°.)

The Book Trade. A Monthly Literary Journal, Record of New Publications and Advertiser. New York. (?) 1850–(?). 4°.

Booksellers' Trade List and Publishers' Register. No. 1, April, 1854. Continued to July, 1854, or longer.—Sabin.

Appleton's New Catalogue of American and English Books, comprising a most extensive assortment of the best books in every department of Literature and Science. With a Complete Index. New York, D. Appleton & Co., 1855. 242 p. 8°.

Fortnightly Book List and Literary Miscellany, Devoted to the interests of Publishers, Booksellers, Stationers and Book Buyers. Philadelphia. (?) 1859–(?). 4°.

The Bookbuyer's Manual, a Catalogue of Foreign and American Books in every branch of literature, with a classified index. Compiled by G. P. Putnam. New York, George P. Putnam & Co., 1852. 236+8+48 p. 8°. Resumed in 1872, and continued as Best Reading.

Trübner's Bibliographical Guide to American Literature; being a classified list of books, in all departments of literature and science, published in the United States of America during the last forty years. With an introduction, notes, three appendices, and an index. London: Trübner & Co., 12 Paternoster Row, 1855. xxxii., 108 p. 16°.

The American Catalogue of Books; or, English Guide to American Literature, giving the full title of original works published in the United States since the year 1800. With especial reference to works of Interest to Great Britain. With the prices at which they may be obtained. [Compiled by Sampson Low.] London, 1856. vii+190 p. 8°.

As a matter of fact the catalogue contains no books published before 1840.

The Criterion. Literary and Critical Journal. New York, Charles Rudolph Rode. 1856. 2 vols. 4°.

Charles R. Rode afterwards became the editor of the American Publishers' Circular.

To the foregoing may be added the useful trade catalogues, on special subjects, issued by C. N. Caspar, educational and law; Dyrsen & Pfeiffer, French literature; Lemcke & Buechner, and their predecessors, B. Westermann & Co., foreign literature in general; E. Steiger & Co., educational and foreign literature; Charles Scribner's Sons, music; and D. Van Nostrand Co., scientific literature. These, and the numerous other booksellers' and publishers' catalogues of the present day we cannot mention in detail, because it would be difficult to bring the matter within reasonable space limit. We will be pleased, however, to have word of any notable omissions from above list, as well as additional information concerning the titles which for want of the necessary data we were obliged to print incomplete.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS CORPORATION FAILS TO RECOVER "THE SEASIDE LIBRARY."

In the New York Law Journal for June 19, we find the following decision rendered in the suit of the American Publishers Corporation vs. Munro et al., by Judge McLaughlin, of the Supreme Court, Special Term, Part IV.: "On the 31st day of January, 1890, the firm of George Munro, consisting of George Munro, now deceased, and the defendants, George W. and John Munro, entered into a contract with John W. Lovell, in and by which it granted to him, for a term of three years, and exclusive license to issue all numbers of the Seaside Library, a well-known publication, together with an option to purchase. A part of the consideration for the license and option was (1) the payment of $50,000, (2) the further payment of $4,500 monthly, (3) an agreement to give to the firm the exclusive printing privilege, except first editions, of numbers thereafter issued, (4) the maintenance of the library as a continued series and the book-stock then on hand, including the issue of at least three new numbers weekly, (5) the retention by the firm of all plates then in its possession, and the delivery to it of all new plates thereafter made for the exclusive use of said firm, in case the contract should be thereafter terminated without a purchase. Among other things the contract provided: That in case of the non-payment of any of the monthly payments therein provided, the firm could terminate the agreement by giving written notice of their intention to that effect; and, if the default in the payment continued for a period of five days after the service of such notice, then the agreement became void, and all claim or interest of said Lovell, or of any one claiming under him, in or to any of the plates or book-stock immediately ceased. Lovell complied with the terms of the agreement until September, 1890, when, under some arrangement made by him, the United States Book Company succeeded to his interest, and it performed until October, 1892, when default was made in the payment for the preceding month, and no further payments were thereafter made. The firm thereupon terminated the contract in the manner therein provided and took possession of, and has ever since held the plates and book-stock. No attempt was ever made to exercise the option to purchase. In January, 1893, in an action for the dissolution of the United States Book Company, receivers were appointed and continued until February, 1896, when, pursuant to an order of the Court, all of the property held by them was sold to a reorganization committee, which in turn transferred all rights acquired to the plaintiff. On the 4th of January, 1892, the book company executed a chattel mortgage to the Manhattan Trust Company to secure an issue of bonds, dated July 1, 1890, aggregating one million of dollars. The mortgage was foreclosed by the trust company, and the property covered by it was sold in December, 1895, to a purchasing committee, which also, in February, 1896, transferred whatever right or interest it had to the plaintiff. The defendants were not parties to the foreclosure suit, and they had no actual knowledge of the foreclosure proceedings. Neither the receivers, the trust company, nor the reorganization or purchasing committees ever made any demand upon the defendants for the plates or book-stock which they took possession of when the contract was terminated. But the plaintiff, shortly after the transfers to it, made such demand, which was refused, and thereupon this suit instituted. After a careful consideration of the questions involved, and the evidence offered, I am unable to see how the plaintiff is entitled to the relief asked. It is conceded that prior to 1890 the firm of George Munro owned and published the Seaside Library, and it must also be conceded that its ownership has ever since continued, subject only to the license and option granted by the Lovell contract. Lovell was the vice-president and general manager of the United States Book Company, and when that corporation came into existence he informed the Munro firm that it had been organized for the purpose of carrying out the contract made by him, and it thereafter attempted to do so. And it matters not what legal relation the United States Book Company sustained to Lovell, since the fact is that with the consent of both parties to the contract it acquired, subject to the same terms and conditions, the privileges granted to Lovell, one of which was that the plates and books here sought to be reached should be delivered to and become the absolute property of the firm of George Munro, subject only to the option to purchase. The privilege granted could only be exercised upon that condition, and when delivery was made the title to both books and plates at once vested in the firm. They were not pledged or delivered as security for the performance of the contract. The contract does not so provide, and there is nothing in the evidence to indicate any such intent on the part of any of the parties to the transaction. It is suggested that this provision of the contract cannot be enforced against the plaintiff because the property delivered belonged to the United States Book Company, and it was not a party to the agreement. But the privilege it exercised came through the Lovell contract, and it came burdened with the conditions, restrictions and obligations therein imposed. Its rights were acquired from Lovell, and, in carrying out the contract, it was either his agent or else his assignee. If an agent, then clearly all of the provisions of the contract were as binding upon it as upon him; and if an assignee, and certainly if the contract is what the plaintiff's attorney terms it—one of 'letting' and 'hiring'—it was equally bound while it lasted, since it could only acquire such right as the assignor had, and in doing so became liable, not only for the rent stipulated, but also to perform all covenants contained in the lease. (Stewart v. Long I. RR. Co. 102 N. Y., 601). The arrangement necessarily depended upon a continuance of Lovell's license, and the payments of money and delivery of books and plates were for that purpose and no other; and the title to the property, as we have before seen, when delivered, at once vested in the firm subject to the option to purchase, which was never exercised. When the contract was terminated it had less than four months to run, and it nowhere appears that either Lovell or the United States Book Company ever claimed the right to continue the publication or objected to the termination. The defendants are not estopped from questioning the validity of the chattel mortgage, or the foreclosure made thereunder. The bonds upon which they received from the trust company the sum of $236.68 were taken by the Munro firm in January, 1892, at the request of Lovell as collateral security for the payment of his notes. It nowhere appears that any member of the firm at any time had actual knowledge that the mortgage purported to include any of the book-plates or book-stock covered by the contract in question; or that the money received was derived from a sale under the foreclosure proceeding. Not a bond was sold or an act done by any of the parties, or by any of the bondholders, so far as appears, upon the faith of the taking or the holding of these bonds by the firm of Munro. It, however, does appear that this money was not paid to or received by defendants until several months after the purchase by the plaintiff. Under such circumstances the principle of estoppel cannot be invoked. It cannot be invoked because it does not appear that the plaintiff was influenced by the acts of the defendant in accepting the money, or that the defendants in accepting it acted with full knowledge of all the facts. And, in this connection, it must be borne in mind that the firm resumed control of the Seaside Library in October, 1892, and it then had all of the plates and book-stock in its possession; and that the United States Book Company passed into the hands of a receiver in January, 1893, and the receivership continued until 1896, and during all this period the right of the defendants to the property now sued for was unquestioned. The plaintiff has also failed to make a case for equitable relief. The question presented simply involves the legal title to personal property, for which an adequate remedy is furnished in an action at law. No accounting is necessary to ascertain what property is held by the defendants, since the plaintiff has a complete inventory of all books delivered made by its own employee; and as to the plates, a schedule is annexed to and made a part of the complaint. No basis is laid for an accounting by reason of the use of the property or profits made, since it nowhere appears that the defendants have ever used or intend to use any of the books or plates in question. The plaintiff must therefore fail upon this ground (Hawes v. Dobbs, 137 N. Y., 465; Dudley v. Congregation, 138 N. Y., 451). It follows that the complaint must be dismissed, with costs. Decision signed."

WILLIAM JOHN SHUEY.

THE General Conference of the United Brethren Church in its recent session conferred an honor upon its faithful agent, W. J. Shuey, by electing him Business Manager of the Union Biblical Seminary, the denominational theological school of the United Brethren Church. Mr. Shuey has been succeeded in the Publishing House by the Rev. W. R. Funk, of Greensburg, Pa. E. L. Shuey, who has had charge of the book department of the Publishing House for the past twelve years, retired on the 1st inst. to enter other business pursuits.

William John Shuey was born in Miamisburg, Montgomery Co., O., February 9, 1827. He was educated in the common schools and at an academy in Springfield, O., and for a time taught school near that city. In 1848 he received license to preach from the Miami annual Conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, and was ordained in 1851 by Bishop Erb. He was pastor at Lewisburg, O., from 1849 to 1851; at Cincinnati, O., from 1851 to 1859; and at Dayton, O., from 1860 to 1862. From 1862 to 1864 he was the presiding elder of his Conference. Having been an earnest advocate of an African mission, in 1854 he was appointed the first missionary of the United Brethren Church to Africa, and in 1855 he made a voyage to the west coast of Africa for the purpose of selecting a site for a mission. This mission, situated near Freetown, Sierra Leone, now numbers nearly 6000 members. In 1864 Mr. Shuey was appointed assistant publishing agent of the United Brethren Publishing House, located at Dayton, O.

During the years preceding Mr. Shuey's election, the Publishing House had suffered much, though steadily growing. It had been established in 1834 at Circleville, O., and removed to Dayton in 1853. Through heavy interest on borrowed capital, and large losses from the credit system, the indebtedness of the house in 1865 was $52,000, while the assets were little over $60,000.

In 1865 he was elected senior agent, and in 1866 became sole agent, which position, by successive re-elections, he has occupied ever since. Mr. Shuey devised the plan of securing a Publication Fund by assessment upon the conferences, which was adopted by the General Conference of 1865. The Church rallied enthusiastically to the support of the officers of the House, and met the request of the General Conference and the assessments, so that the plan resulted in adding over $18 000 in cash to the capital of the House. With this assistance, by a restriction of the credit system, and by careful management, by the year 1880 the great debt had been cancelled and the business placed upon a firm basis.

He began, also, after entering upon the full control of the House, that close and careful supervision of its business in all its details by which the current of its affairs was turned, and that upward trend was begun which has never turned backward. Under this wise management, in consultation from time to time with its board of trustees, and with the generous support of the ministers and people throughout the church, the House has steadily gained in its resources until a high position among the foremost of denominational publishing houses has been attained.

Through all the subsequent years, of either general financial prosperity or depression, the House has seldom passed a year without adding to the credit side of the ledger. The general assets in the year 1896 had reached the sum of $365,630.50, while the net assets were $315,665.08. The real estate, including the additional grounds purchased and the new buildings erected, has advanced from almost nothing in 1834 to over $100,000 in 1896. The cash sales of books have amounted to nearly $1,600,000, and the cash receipts from periodicals have been more, $1,700,000. The aggregate receipts from the business since the founding have been over $4,250,000. In benevolences, such as carrying non-paying publications, paying general conference expenses, and dividends to the annual conferences, and in litigation, the House has dispensed over $100,000.

Much difficulty was experienced in the recent church litigation in which a small company of seceders sought to gain possession of the church property. The management of these trials, lasting through eight years, was entirely in Mr. Shuey's hands, and throughout all every point he made was triumphantly sustained by the courts. The result of these many years of management has been to give to the United Brethren Publishing House a financial standing second to none in the country.

Mr. Shuey has also been connected with all the important general interests of the United Brethren Church for more than half a century. He has occupied other positions of honor and trust both in the church and in the city in which he lives. His influence upon the denomination with which he is connected has been very marked, and will no doubt continue to be so as long as he lives. Business men and all who have had any dealings with him in the Publishing House are well aware of his nobility of character, his unswerving faithfulness and conscientiousness. In all public movements for the good of this city or its citizens Mr. Shuey has been prominent, and his voice has always been raised for, and his efforts have always been directed towards, humanitarian efforts for the benefit of his fellow men.

Mr. Shuey has been identified so long with the publishing interests of the country that his name is well known, especially among the older book men. The good wishes of the entire trade will follow him into his new occupation.

THE NEW LIBRARIAN OF THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

THE appointment of John Russell Young as Librarian of the Library of Congress has been confirmed by the Senate, and, on the 1st inst. Mr. Young was installed in office, with the late librarian, A. R. Spofford, as first assistant. Mr. Spofford, who had for some time been harrassed by Congressmen to make places for their henchmen, used this as a pretext to decline reappoinment as chief of the library. Mr. Young was born near Downington, Pa., in 1841. When sixteen years of age he was employed as a copyholder in a printing office in Philadelphia. Shortly after he became a reporter and then an editorial writer. He served as secretary to John W. Forney while the latter was Secretary of the United States Senate, and at the same time as a war correspondent. In 1872 he became managing editor of the Philadelphia Press. In 1865 he came to New York in the employ of Jay Cooke & Co. to use his pen in advertising the government loan. While here he contributed to the New York Tribune, of which, in 1866, he became managing editor. He resigned that position in January, 1869, and started a daily newspaper here, the Standard, a few months later, but it was not a success. Afterwards he became an editorial writer for the Herald and one of its foreign correspondents. He accompanied Gen. Grant around the world, and wrote a book on the subject. President Arthur appointed him Minister to China, a position which he resigned in 1885. McLeod made him one of the many Vice-Presidents of the Reading Railroad under his administration. He has not, so far as is known, had any experience in library work.

THE BOOK OF WEALTH.

"THE BOOK OF WEALTH," by Hubert Howe Bancroft, of San Francisco, Cal., setting forth the resources of the world in print and pictures, will be completed this year. The work was begun six years ago. It will be in ten sections, making in all about one thousand folio pages with about three thousand illustrations, produced through the highest pictorial art, "restoring, as far as possible, in limited space, all that is best worth preserving in the world." Each section, besides one hundred pages of text and illustrations, contains ten plates in fac-simile oil and water-colors, original etchings and photogravures. Among these are "The Hanging Gardens of Babylon," Thomas Moran; "Windsor Castle," G. H. McCord; "The Tuileries in the Time of Louis XIV.," W. Granville Smith; "The Acropolis Restored," C. Y. Turner; "The Taj Mahal," C. A. Vanderhoff; and "Square of St. Mark, Venice," E. Benvenuto. The other ninety-four are by no less worthy artists.

The first chapter of the first section opens with a drawing by E. H. Blashfield, representing a Chaldean goddess dispelling chaos. Then begins in text and illustration a history of the dawn of civilization. The nations of antiquity are described and depicted from economic, financial, and artistic points of view. Then follows the next oldest civilization, and the next, and so on, as the historic thread is followed to the present day in America.

Throughout the book are the most authentic portraits of men and women great in the world's history. Persons associated with the wealth of nations; not those who are and have been the simple possessors of wealth, but who have added to the earth's store of riches by great accomplishments, whether they themselves have or had fortunes or not.

In the subscription book for this work appear the autograph signatures of the Emperor of China, Emperor of Japan, Count Ito, Khedive of Egypt, Shah of Persia, Sultan of Turkey, Prince of Wales, Princess Louise, Emperor of Germany, Emperor of Austria, Czarina of Russia, Queen of Holland, and many lesser royal lights. Then come President Faure, of France, Duke of Westminster, Duke of Marlborough, Earl of Rosebery, Marquis of Exeter, Lady Randolph Churchill, and so on through a long list of titles. Following these are kings and lords of finance, with Baron Rothschild, William K. Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan, C. P. Huntington, John Jacob Astor, W. W. Astor, Bradley Martin, Marshall Field, and a long list that almost exhausts the very limited edition of "The Book of Wealth."

Only four hundred copies will be printed, nearly all of which have already been subscribed for at $2500 a copy for the first—Cygne Noir—edition of one hundred and fifty copies, in ten sections, and at $1000 a copy for the second edition of two hundred and fifty copies, in the same number of sections. Each section will be bound in golden silk cloth. The cover of each section in the first edition will bear an original water-color sketch by a well-known artist, set in a frame formed by the silk cloth.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GEORGE H. WHITNEY, for many years one of the best-known booksellers in New England, died on the 17th inst. in Annapolis, Ind., at the residence of his son-in-law, Lieut. John O. Nicolson. Mr. Whitney was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1821. He established himself in the book business in Providence, R. I., in 1850. His store at 3 Westminster Street and 2 Washington Row, now occupied by E. L. Freeman & Sons, was a popular resort for the students of Brown University. In 1874 Mr. Whitney gave up his store and removed to Boston, where he was for a short time connected with Houghton, Mifflin & Co. For nearly twenty years, however, Mr. Whitney had not been actively engaged in business, and had lived quietly in Wayland, Mass.

MRS. MARGARET OLIPHANT, the English authoress, died in Wimbledon, Eng., on the evening of June 25. The cause of her death was cancer. Mrs. Oliphant, whose maiden name was Margaret O. Wilson, was born in 1828, in Wallyford, near Musselburgh, Midlothian, Scotland. Her first novel, "Passages in the Life of Mrs. Maitland," was published in 1849. Since then her literary activity was continuous. At least one book a year was published, and sometimes more. Among her best known novels, besides the one already mentioned, were: "Caleb Field," "Merkland," "Katie Stewart," "The Quiet Heart," "Zaidee," "The Laird of Norlaw," "Lucie Crofton," "The Chronicles of Carlingford," "Madonna Mary," "Squire Arden," "At His Gates," "A Rose in June," "Young Musgrave," "Within the Precincts." "The Ladies Lindores," "The Wizard's Son," "Hester," "Sir Tom," "Madam," "Oliver's Bride," "The Second Son," "Neighbors on the Green," "Lady Car," "A Poor Gentleman," "Mrs. Blencarrow's Troubles," "Sons and Daughters," "The Heir Presumptive and the Heir Apparent," "The Marriage of Elinor," "Lady William," and "The Sorceress," "Prodigals and Their Inheritance," "Sir Robert's Fortune," and "The Modern Son." Recently she had written chiefly works of history and literary criticism. Of these the more important are: "Historical Characters of the Reign of Queen Anne," "Royal Edinburgh: Her Saints, Kings, Prophets, and Poets," "The Victorian Age of English Literature," "St. Francis of Assisi," "Thomas Chalmers, Preacher, Philosopher, and Statesman," "The Makers of Florence," "The Makers of Venice," "The Makers of Modern Rome," "Jerusalem," "Jeanne d'Arc," and a "Memoir of the Life of Lawrence Oliphant and of Alice Oliphant, His Wife."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

S. R. CROCKETT'S next story is to be called "The Red Axe."

LE QUEUX is writing a series of African stories for The Idler under the title of "The Veiled Man."

THE Paris correspondent of the London Daily Chronicle reports that François Edouard Joachim Coppée, the French poet, now in his fifty-sixth year, is dying.

ISRAEL ZANGWILL'S novel, "Dreamers of the Ghetto," need not be looked for until the autumn. His brother, Louis Zangwill—better known as "Z. Z."—has written a story that is about to appear under the title, "A Nineteenth Century Miracle."

MAJOR JAMES B. POND, the manager, has made arrangements with Anthony Hope Hawkins, the novelist, for a series of fifty readings, to be given in the United States in the fall. The readings will be from the novelist's own works. Mr. Hawkins will sail for New York on the steamer Paris on October 9.

THE author of the delightful little story, "The Romance of a Jesuit Mission," just published by The Baker & Taylor Company, is Mary Bourchier Sanford, a Canadian, who for a number of years has lived in New York. The author put out her latest book as by M. Bourchier Sanford, and has therefore been considered by the reviewers as bolonging to the stronger sex.

WILLIAM BRIGGS, Toronto, has just ready "Louisbourg in 1745," being a letter of a French inhabitant of that stronghold written during the siege. It is edited and translated by Prof. George M. Wrong of the University of Toronto. Parkman has used the document.

LAWRENCE & BULLEN, of London, will publish next fall the early volumes of an Anglers' Library, under the joint editorship of Sir Herbert Maxwell and F. G. Aflalo. A start will be made with a book on "Coarse Fish," by C. H. Wheeley. Some of the later volumes will be of a topographical character, giving information about particular waters in England and elsewhere.

MAYNARD A. DOMINICK, who for the past three years has been well known in literary London as manager of the English branch of the Frederick A. Stokes Company, is on his way to New York to become secretary of his firm, to which position he was recently elected. The publications of the Stokes Company will in future be issued by several well-known London firms.

A STUDY of the little woodcuts in the Florentine chapbooks of the fifteenth and sixteenth century has been made by Dr. Paul Kristeller, for early issue by Kegan Paul, Trench, Trübner & Co., in a volume entitled "Florentine Illustrated Books." It will be illustrated with about 150 reproductions of woodcuts, many of them from unique books, personally photographed by the author in foreign libraries. Besides the ordinary edition, limited to 300 copies, an édition de luxe of fifty copies on handmade paper is being prepared.

THE reported massacre of Baron Dahnis and the members of his entire expedition at the extreme eastern point of the Congo Free State, will draw special attention to Capt. Hinde's "Fall of the Congo Arabs," a graphic account of Baron Dahnis's first expedition, which after two years of constant warfare, succeeded in completely crushing the power of the Arab Slave Traders in the Congo Basin. The author of this book was second in command. The volume was published a few weeks since by Thomas Whittaker, of New York.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY will publish in the fall a volume of short stories by E. W. Thomson, one of the editors of The Youth's Companion. The title of the volume will be "Between Earth and Sky." It will be fully illustrated and will be published in appropriate form. The society will also publish during the coming fall a small volume of addresses left in MS. form by Prof. Nathan Sheppard, well known among Baptist journals by his pseudonym "Keynote." These addresses are in Prof. Sheppard's best style.

THE second International Bibliographical Congress will be held in Brussels from August 2 to August 4. The first Congress was held two years ago. The programme will include the following discussions: 1, The general status of bibliography; 2, The organization of a bureau of universal bibliography; 3, International co-operation for such a bureau; 4, International bibliographical classification; 5, Bibliography of manuscripts; 6, The publication of bibliographical titles; 7, Bibliographical publications; 8, Bibliographical appliances.

SIXTY-FIVE members of the Booksellers' League and their friends took part in the trolley ride to Jamaica, L. I., on the afternoon of June 26. The car in which the party was conveyed was gayly decorated with flags, bunting, and colored electric lights, and carried two ensigns bearing the design of the seal of the League. Jamaica was reached about four o'clock, where the party discussed the luncheon set out for it at Pettit's hotel. After luncheon the party rode to Bergen Beach, where an hour was pleasantly passed. The ride home through beautiful sections of the suburban portion of the future Greater New York was only too quickly over. The excursion was an entire success, and great credit is due to its originator, W. H. Parker, of the entertainment committee. A similar excursion is planned to take place before the summer is over.

B. F. STEVENS writes from London to The Critic that the 25th volume, completing his series of "Fac-similes of Documents Relating to America," "will be the Index, same size as the other volumes, but it will be printed in two columns of long primer type on a page, and will make a volume of about the same thickness and in every way uniform with the others. The chronological arrangement is already printed, as is, also, the alphabetical arrangement of writers and addresses. The subject matter index has hung fire, and it has been an exceedingly tedious job. The fair copy is only now finished, and my amanuensis and I are confidently hoping to finish the reading, editing and revising of the whole of the 'copy' before the Queen's Jubilee, so that the printers will have the 'copy' complete with cross-references, and so that they can go straight away without interruption from the beginning to the end. Long before the printers shall have put this whole subject matter into type, I confidently hope that I shall have written my introduction, and so shall be able to issue the volume before Christmas."

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

For terms of advertising see issue for June 12, p. 975.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal anly on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

The Best Key to Educational Books.

THE

American Educational Catalogue

whose value to the trade is proved by the fact that it is now in its twenty-eighth year, and that upwards of claims to be the best practical aid to the dealer in or buyer of school-books.

With its alphabetical arrangement by authors, its separate class-index, carefully sub-classified to an extent not followed by any other catalogue, its completeness and accuracy, it is presented as the best finding-list, the most convenient order-list, and the most satisfactory class-catalogue for school use.

The catalogue is made entirely new each year, to omit books which have dropped out of use and to include all live books, and all new books (ready or to be ready for the Fall) are added in their proper alphabetical place.

The page giving the key to publishers will not be given in imprint editions unless specially ordered.

This Catalogue is specially planned to be of service for circulation by retailers among schools and private buyers. The imprint edition possesses not only temporary value, but will serve its purpose during the whole year. No imprint edition of less than 100 copies can be supplied. Orders for editions should be sent to us at once.

CASH TERMS:

Imprint edition—without publishers' advertisements:
With sole imprint of ordering firm, and stitched, per 100 copies, $5.00; per 1000, $40.00.

There is no extra charge for printing name, business card, etc., on the imprint page; the last page is left blank at the disposal of the dealer, but any copy for that page, advertising special lines or general business, will be set up and printed thereon for $5.00, or for $1.00 if plate is sent.

Copy for imprint and shipping directions should accompany the order.

The regular Educational Number of "THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY" will be supplied at 50 cents per copy in leatherette.

PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL

For 1897 (Twenty-Fifth Year.)

Large 8vo. With Duplex Index.

The Trade List Annual for 1897 will contain:

The latest CATALOGUES OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume.

These Lists, all bound in one volume, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books.

The patent "DUPLEX INDEX" having given such general satisfaction we are now applying it to all copies of the "Annual." Volumes supplied with the "DUPLEX INDEX" have the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, which enables instantaneous reference, whether the book is open or shut.

Only those subscribing and forwarding amount now are entitled to subscription rate of $1.50; after publication day, and on orders for which we have to collect after that date, the regular price will be $2.00 net.

Remittances should be made by Check, Money Order on New York, or Registered Letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

☞ Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be dispatched by express unpaid. Parties so desiring can have their copies sent by mail, or by prepaid book-rate express for $1.10 per copy extra. Address
